

POWERful Women

On Wednesday 19th May the POWERful Women's network (PFW), of which BCECA is a participant, launched its 2021 statistics on gender diversity at the top of the UK energy sector. The keynote address was given by UK Energy Minister Rt Hon Anne-Marie Trevelyan MP. Ruth Cairnie, the PFW Chair, then presented the statistics that had been compiled by PwC UK. She commented that whilst the figures had not been impacted by the Covid-19 pandemic, the anticipated improvement in the number of women on energy company boards in order to achieve the PFW 2030 target of 30% had not been achieved. The 2021 statistics can be viewed here: <https://powerfulwomen.org.uk/board-statistics-by-company-2021/>

A panel discussion with Julie Davenport, founder and director of the Good Energy Group, and the CEOs of Ofgem and OGA, Jonathan Brearley and Dr Andy Samuel respectively, then responded to the statistics and commented on the role of the regulators in driving change for the skills for Net Zero. The recording of the event can be viewed here: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=J9a-oK9ZD1g&t=1s>

At the BCECA HR Managers' meeting the following day, it was agreed that, although BCECA Member companies are unable to produce data on the number of female board members because the boards are predominantly overseas, they should record and monitor the number of women in the most senior positions within their UK operations. A working group to establish this survey will now be convened. Anyone wishing to be involved should contact BCECA.

New Membership Brochure

In the last newsletter, we announced that BCECA had created a third membership tier for Suppliers. We are now very pleased to inform you that we have brought all three membership tiers together in a new BCECA Membership Brochure which will be available electronically and via the BCECA website. Please take a look and share it with your supply chain contacts.
